TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Marlin

The Snipe is a swift, erratic flyer and the alacrity with which he slips away from a heavy gun is astonishing. The light, hard-shooting 16-gauge Marlin assures a good bag of these difficult birds and does not wear out the shooter who carries it over many miles of boggy snipe ground. It has all the penetration and pattern of the 12-gauge, without the weight. It can be handled fast and with precision in all the more difficult forms of bird shooting. It is the lightest (6½ lbs.) and smallest repeater made and a mighty good gun to know.

This, and every other Marlin, has the unique solid top and side ejector features, which guarantee strength and prevent the ejected shell from getting into the line of sight or flying in your face. There's a solid wall of metal between you and the cartridge all the time.

The Marlin Breech Bolt keeps out water, twigs, leaves or sand, and keeps the shells dry. It makes the Marlin the gun for hard usage and bad weather—serviceable and dependable always. No other gun has this feature.

Become a Marlin user. It means better bags and eternal satisfaction. Hundreds of Marlin enthusiasts tell rousing stories of what their Marlin has done in the "Marlin Experience Book"—let us send it to you. Free, with 1905 Catalog—six cents postage.

Preface

LIST of all the organizations at the University of Pennsylvania, together with their officers and addresses, had been needed at the University for many years. To meet this, the editor had prepared and published in various issues of "Old Penn" during the last four years such lists, which also appeared in the first edition of the Official Guide Book of the University, published in 1904, and the third edition, published in 1906. In the present work it is proposed to print not only the lists of officers and their addresses, but also to give a brief historical sketch of the principal organizations, where such information has been received, and in some cases lists of the members; pictures of club houses, emblems, etc.

Another long felt want has been an alphabetical list of the University family, which this year includes about 5,217 names; i. e. 4,279 students, 204 Special Evening School students, 435 members of the teaching force, 194 administrative officers (including trustees, managers, directors, etc.), and 105 of the principal employees, such as assistant librarians, stenographers, clerks, bookkeepers, superintendents, engineers, and janitors of buildings. An effort has been made to arrange the list so that it will be possible to instantly find the address of any person connected with the University, with the official or undergraduate capacity, that is, the full name, the position, class, department, course, home address, and Philadelphia address. The editor feels that such a list will be of great value to the many who will have occasion to look up information concerning University members.

The editor desires to take this opportunity of thanking the officers and members of the various University organizations who have assisted him in compiling this material.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The latest statistics of the United States Commissioner of Education include almost a thousand colleges, universities, and professional schools; all except thirty of these were founded within the last century, ten were in existence when the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776, and only five of the present American universities were founded more than a century and a half ago. Harvard opened its doors during the early part of the Seventeenth Century; Yale in the first year of the Eighteenth Century, and the University of Pennsylvania in 1740; Washington and Lee and Princeton a few years later.

The University of Pennsylvania had its origin in the "Charity School," organized in 1740, which occupied a building at Fourth and Arch streets, Philadelphia. Nine years later Benjamin Franklin, the great American statesman and philosopher, and the founder of the University, published a pamphlet on "Education of Youth in Pennsylvania," which resulted in the foundation of an Academy, which began its first session on January 7, 1751, in the building originally constructed for the Charity School. In 1753 the Trustees secured their first charter for the Academy, and two years later, by virtue of a second charter, the Academy was converted into a college with full power to confer the usual collegiate degrees. The first Commencement was held on May 17, 1757, when the degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon seven students. In 1765 a school of medicine, the first in America, was added to the college. In 1779 all the charter rights and privileges of the college were absorbed by a new organization, called in its charter "The Trustees of the University of the State of Pennsylvania." These rights were restored ten years later, and in 1791 another charter was granted jointly to the Trustees of the Charity School and Academy, of the University and of the College, under the corporate name of "The University of Pennsylvania," which name it has borne ever since. Its early history was closely associated with the principal events in the history of the colonies, and also in the war with Great Britain for independence, in which many of its sons took a leading part. Among the signers of the Declaration of Independence were ten men who were either graduates of the college or among its founders.

In 1802 the University buildings were removed to Ninth and Chestnut streets, where, a century and a quarter after its organization, the University found itself located in one of the most congested sections of Philadelphia. In 1873 it removed to its present site in West Philadelphia. Here its growth was most remarkable. In 1874 the University Hospital was established; the year following the Towne Scientific School was added to the college, and in quick succession followed the Department of Music, Department of Philosophy and Graduate School, Department of Veterinary Medicine, the Veterinary Hospital, the Department of Physical Education, the Department of Archaeology and University Museums, General Library, Training School for Nurses, Wistar Institute of Anatomy, Teachers' School, Flower Astronomical Observatory, the Evening School, and the Summer School—so that the curriculum now covers practically every branch of higher education and scientific research.

UNIVERSITY COMMITTEE ON ATHLETICS.

The ultimate control of the athletic sports of students is in the hands of the University Committee on Athletics, which was created by action of the Corporation, and consists of the chairmen of the several committees on athletics in the College, the Graduate School, Law, Medical, Dental and Veterinary Schools, together with two representatives each from the Corporation, from the Athletic Association, and from the student body. This committee is charged with the oversight of the physical life of the students of the University; controls all athletic sports, contests and exhibitions, both interclass and intercollegiate; determines, through the reports of the Deans of the several faculties, the eligibility (in point of scholarship) of students who may desire to serve on any athletic teams, and has jurisdiction over other kindred matters.

UNIVERSITY COMMITTEE ON NON-ATHLETIC ORGANIZATIONS.

Students desiring to establish newspapers, magazines, dramatic and musical societies, and other organizations that may bring them in relation with the public, must submit a draft of their proposed undertaking to the Committee on Non-Athletic Organizations, together with a list of men interested therein. If the proposed organization be approved by the Committee, a certificate of approval will be given to the promoters of the project. Without a certificate no such organizations may be formed by the students.

All organizations, whether old or new, must submit to the Committee within thirty days from the commencement of each college year a list of their officers, with their respective city residences, and must report to the Committee all changes that may occur during the year.

All students taking part in such organizations must be in good standing. No student will be allowed to take part in such organizations if he has more than one condition. Special and partial students shall not be eligible unless taking regularly an amount of work equivalent to the minimum required of regular students under usual conditions.

THE COLLEGE BOAT CLUB.

(Fairmount Park—Banks of the Schuylkill.)

The College Boat Club, organized September 30, 1872, incorporated November 13, 1875, has the honor of being the oldest of the athletic organizations of the University, and from its formation until its partial merger in 1885 with the Athletic Association was an exceedingly energetic body of men.

Its founders erected the boathouse in Fairmount Park, and when, in 1885, the Club consented to hand over the boathouse and equipment free of debt to the custody of the Athletic Association it reserved the right to appoint three of the five members of the Committee on Rowing, the further right to nominate a coach for the crew, subject to the approval of the then director of physical culture, and the Athletic Association, agreed in turn to annually contribute a sum of not less than $700 per annum, to be applied toward the salary of the coach, which sum approximately was 6 per cent. per annum on about $12,000 of property value represented by the boathouse and equipment. During the period 1872-1885 rowing at Pennsylvania was administered solely through the medium of the College Boat Club, and it is the proud distinction of the men of that era to have inaugurated the policy of a willingness to meet all comers, which has since become characteristic of all branches of Pennsylvania athletics.

EVERY LOYAL SON OF OLD PENN CAN HELP THE GOOD WORK FOR THE STUDENTS' WARD,
UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL.

The Students' Ward is one of the brightest and most attractive spots in the Hospital. It has been thoroughly equipped and furnished with every modern convenience for the comfort of the students during their hours of sickness. The best of the Hospital's resources, medical attendance, faithful nursing and the choicest food from the Diet Kitchen are provided for the boys. The charge is made as moderate as possible, and many of the students are poor young men, some of them working their way through college, and others possessed of just barely enough to carry them to the goal of a finished education. To provide for this class Mrs. Giger is working to endow a Free Bed in the Students' Ward, and is anxious to secure the co-operation of the students and alumni to aid in this work. She has compiled and edited a choice collection of over eight hundred celebrated Colonial, Creole, Moravian and modern cooking receipts. Price, $1.50.

THE COLONIAL RECEIPT BOOK,

The volume is handsomely printed and bound, and will make a beautiful gift.

Buy one for your mother, sister or sweetheart and help the good work for the honor of your Alma Mater.

Contributions to the Endowment Fund of the Students' Ward, or subscriptions to the Colonial Receipt Book can be sent to

GRADUATES' APPOINTMENT COMMITTEE.

The University maintains a Graduates' Appointment Committee, through the medium of which graduates and other members of the University seeking positions are brought into contact with persons having vacancies to fill, especially in the line of teaching or tutoring.

Applicants for positions may register their names with the Committee, and fill out blank forms with detailed information as to personal history and qualifications, kind of work desired, etc. No fees of any kind are charged, but no assistance is given to applicants who are not members of the University.

While the primary purpose of the Committee is to secure positions for those who have none in prospect, it is glad to register also the applications of graduates who already have employment as teachers, but who may wish to consider a change to other fields.

THE UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA.

The present University of Pennsylvania Orchestra was reorganized in November, 1905, with Dr. Hugh A. Clarke as Director; Russell Browne, President, and C. F. Sladen, Secretary and Treasurer. The organization consisted of sixteen members. Weekly rehearsals were held at the Houston Club until near the latter part of the term, when Dr. Clarke was obliged to withdraw from the leadership on account of ill health, whereupon rehearsals were discontinued for the remainder of the year, for lack of a director.

In the fall of 1906 Robert R. Drummond, formerly Director of the University of Maine Orchestra, was elected Director, and the Orchestra again began weekly rehearsals. During this term the Orchestra made rapid progress, with an increased membership, and rendered several popular concerts at the University Settlement House, also at the Houston Club Monthly Smokers, and furnished the music for the first annual University Vaudeville Show in the gymnasium. A small Dance Orchestra of six pieces is also conducted by R. L. Browne, the manager, composed of men from the larger Orchestra, who in this way defray part of their expenses at the University. This smaller Orchestra fills professional engagements during a season, playing for University dances, smokers, plays, teas, dinners, receptions and various other social functions. The season of 1906-07 was brought to a close by a concert and smoker given by the full Orchestra at the Houston Club on May 18, 1907.

The Orchestra rehearses weekly at Houston Hall.

The old Orchestra headquarters in the Law School Building were reassigned a few years ago, and the present organization has been somewhat handicapped, therefore, and is in need of a music room which could be used exclusively for its headquarters and rehearsals, but it is hoped that this will be accomplished by the beginning of another term.

THE ESPERANTO SOCIETY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

This Society was organized in 1905 to spread the knowledge of the new international language among the students and members of the University. Esperanto is a neutral auxiliary idiom, invented to be used in all dealings between people of different nationalities. Since it can be learned in a comparatively short time, it is expected that all educated people will take it up sooner or later. To hasten its general acceptance, and to furnish it to those who need it and can learn to write and speak it in a few weeks, is the purpose of this Society.

The Esperanto Society was formed by six students of the University in the spring of 1907. Work was started in the following fall, with many new members, and with Professor Grillon, of the Central Manual Training School, as instructor.

All students interested in the international tongue, whether beginners or not, are eligible to membership.

THE DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

Several German students of the University of Pennsylvania in 1900 conceived the idea of forming a German Club. With the aid of the German Faculty the Deutscher Verein was then organized on a permanent basis, and since then it has grown steadily.

The object of the Society is to develop, in a social way, an ability to converse in German. German is strictly adhered to, a fine being imposed for the use of English.

Bi-monthly meetings are held in the Houston Club on the second and fourth Wednesday evenings during the college term. A play in German is also given annually in Philadelphia, which is usually repeated at one of the minor cities of the State.

THE HOUSTON CLUB.

The Houston Club, to membership in which any member of the University is eligible, is the exponent of the social side of Pennsylvania life. Its home is Howard Houston Hall, which is located in almost the exact geographical centre of the University's group of buildings. This situation embodies to a large extent the main idea of its existence as a centralization of undergraduate interests. Here the students of all departments may meet on common ground, and pass their leisure hours in healthy recreation and amusement. The Hall was erected through the generosity of the late H. H. Houston, a Trustee of the University, and his wife, as a memorial to their eldest son, Henry Howard Houston, Jr., a member of the Class of 1878, College.

The Hall was formally dedicated on January 2, 1896. Its equipment includes a large central lobby, a library and reading-room, billiard and pool tables, bowling alley, post office "sub-station," barber shop, book and general supply store, a luncheon buffet and dining-room, athletic trophy rooms, a large auditorium with grand organ, rooms for the University papers and organizations, a dark-room for photographic purposes, etc.

Any student, alumnus or officer of the University of Pennsylvania may become a member of the Club. There are five classes of membership—Honorary, Life, Active, Associate Resident, and Associate Non-Resident. An active member is one who is pursuing a course at the University. The Associate membership is composed of officers, alumni and ex-students who have left in good standing.

THE ZELOSOPHIC SOCIETY.

The Zelosophic Society, founded in 1829, holds weekly meetings at its rooms in College Hall during the College year. All students in the University are eligible to membership. The work of the Society is carried on through the usual medium of essays, orations and debates.

THE UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN SETTLEMENT.

This department of the work of the Christian Association, which is now being carried on in the "University House"—a new building was erected in 1906 at an expenditure of more than sixty thousand dollars at Lombard and Twenty-sixth streets—was started by the students of the University in the winter of 1897 and 1898. There were at first only two residents, Dr. E. F. Stauffer, 'or M., and Thos. S. Evans, the Secretary of the Christian Association. The force now numbers thirteen.

Among those who have made the largest contributions to the work as Superintendents were Mr. J. B. Byall, '03 C., from 1903 to 1905, and Mr. P. R. Stockman, '05 C., during 1905-1906. The activities of the House consists of classes for boys, girls, young men, young women, mothers and older men; weekly illustrated lectures, indoor athletic games and gymnastics, Bible stories and Bible classes and a public kindergarten, conducted by the Board of Education, and a dispensary and a free library. The Settlement Physician and nurse attend to the sick of the neighborhood, and the nurse also looks after the poor and destitute. There are also in connection with the House a children's playground and a large roof garden.

A special Athletic Committee, consisting of Dr. William P. Wilson, Dr. R. Tait McKenzie, Dr. George Orton, Mr. Theo. E. Brown and Mr. O. T. Mallery, has undertaken to develop a large tract of land on the west bank of the Schuylkill as an athletic field and children's playground and garden plot.

The summer camps which have been carried on for the Settlement boys and girls by the University students and the women workers during the past nine years have been a most important feature of the work of the Settlement.

The Settlement House is situated in the Irish-American district where the people need most of all just the stimulus to higher things which can come easily from the University community. It is not merely a social institution carried on by a few people with certain fads and fancies, neither is it simply an experiment station for sociology, but it is a Christian institution carried on with a view to meeting all the needs of the people, physically, intellectually, socially, morally and spiritually, and also in order that the students of the University and so-called working people of this district may become acquainted with each other and may find a good basis of mutual understanding and helpfulness.

This work represents an expenditure of about $8,000 yearly, which is included in the budget of the Christian Association, and is raised by voluntary contributions.

This Settlement is owned and conducted by the "Christian Association of the University of Pennsylvania."

On the Settlement Committee of the Board of Directors are: H. C. Wood, M. D., LL. D.; M. G. Brumbaugh, Ph. D., LL. D.; John H. Musser, M. D.; Professor C. F. Osborne, and H. K. Hill, M. D.

The following are in charge of the Settlement work:

Resident Directors, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Evans; Superintendent, Mr. J. D. Strain. Residents: Mrs. J. B. Cochran, Girls' and Small Boys' Clubs; Miss Jane Hoagland, Trained Nurse; Miss M. M. Ogilvie, Hospital Social Worker; Mr. W. M. Mills, Superintendent of the Society for the Protection of Children from Cruelty; Mr. F. H. McLaury, '09 M., Men's Clubs; Mr. R. N. Hamblen, '09 M., Dispensary; Mr. G. P. Orr, '09 L., Boys' Clubs; Mr. B. C. Emory, '11 C., Boys' Clubs; Mr. F. V. DuBois, Phil., Library; Mr. H. C. Craner, '10 C., Assistant.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

The University of Pennsylvania has taken the lead in establishing a method of providing for the moral and religious interests of the students, which is now being adopted in other large universities as the most satisfactory means of solving the problem. A strong organization, incorporated as the "Christian Association of the University of Pennsylvania," acting independently of the University Corporation, but in entire sympathy with those who preside over the affairs of the University, has gradually developed activities which promise to provide for the moral and religious needs both of the students and the younger members of the faculty. This voluntary student organization has been in existence at the University since 1892, and it is now supported and controlled not only by the students themselves, but also by prominent members of the faculty, of the Board of Trustees and the alumni of the University.

Its contribution to the University life consists of the general University services, held at present in the auditorium of Houston Hall each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and conducted by prominent Christian clergymen and laymen, who have shown by experience that they are capable of meeting the moral and spiritual needs of college men. Also student Bible study groups in charge of members of the faculty, Christian Association Secretaries and other students and held at some convenient time in the fraternity houses, dormitory rooms, boarding houses and in Houston Hall. About four hundred students have been actively interested in these groups, where moral and religious questions are thoroughly discussed from the point of view of the teachings of the Bible. All the new students are supplied with handbooks and called upon personally by Christian Association workers as soon as possible after they reach the University, and at all times the Secretaries are devoted to the work of calling upon the students in their rooms and so far as possible forming personal friendships with them.

The University Settlement and the University Medical School in Canton, China, are among its activities. An account of these will be found on adjoining pages. The vesper service at the University Hospital is another department of the work.

There are now five graduates of universities who are giving their entire time to the development of the various departments of the work of the Association. The annual expenditures of all departments of the work, in the University, the Settlement and abroad, is a little more than $20,000.00, all of which is raised from voluntary contributions from the students, faculty, alumni and friends of the University.

UNIVERSITY MEDICAL SCHOOL IN CANTON, CHINA.

Physician in charge, J. C. McCracken, M. D., '01, Canton, China.

The Trustees, acting under appointment of the Christian Association of the University of Pennsylvania, are: George Wharton Pepper, chairman; Samuel F. Houston, Dean Charles H. Frazier, M. D., William Campbell Posey, M. D., William Guggenheim, Rufus B. Scarlett, M. D., William Ayer McKinney, William M. Schultz, M. D., Secretary; Edward C. Wood, Treasurer, Howard Houston Hall, Philadelphia, Pa.

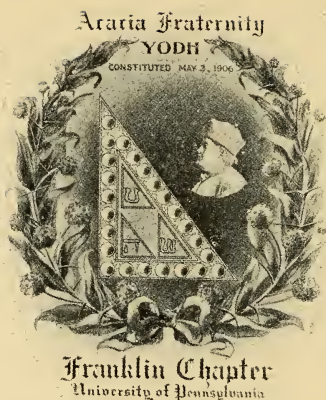

The first step to make this school a permanent institution was taken when Dr. J. C. McCracken was sent to China in 1905 to investigate the field. After eight months' careful study, he returned to this country to raise funds for land and buildings. Fifteen thousand dollars was obtained for this purpose, and Dr. McCracken is now in Canton, superintending the purchase of the land and studying the language, thus preparing himself to do more efficiently what he has already begun in the way of medical work in the present small dispensary.

The Medical School will be developed in connection with the Canton Christian College, an institution which is already setting the standard of higher education in South China, and from which most of the students will come.

THE MASK AND WIG CLUB.

On April 24, 1888, four undergraduates of the University—William Innes Forbes, '89 C.; F. B. Neilson, '90 C.; C. N. B. Camac, '92 C., and Clayton F. McMichael, '91 C.—founded the "Mask and Wig Club." On January 29, 1899, the club was formally organized, and it staged its first production, "Lurline, the Knights and the Naiads," on June 4, 1899. Since that time the Club has annually staged a big burlesque during Easter week, and in addition has produced many smoker skits and preliminary shows at the clubhouse. About 1894 the Club purchased an old building at 310 Quince street, Philadelphia, and remodeled it. It stands to-day as one of the most artistically perfect dramatic clubhouses in America. Maxfield Parrish and other celebrated artists contributed the mural paintings.

The Mask and Wig Club has been notably successful in the twenty years of its history, and is perhaps the best known of Pennsylvania's non-athletic undergraduate organizations. About seventy-five students participate in the annual productions. The Club has an alumni and undergraduate membership of about one hundred.

The Acacia Fraternity was organized for the purpose of more effectually inculcating Masonic principles in Master Masons among University men. Its membership consists of students, faculty and alumni of the various colleges and universities who have taken three or more degrees in Freemasonry. Masonic clubs had existed at Michigan, Pennsylvania and a number of other universities, but none attained permanent success. On May 11, 1904, the Acacia Fraternity was organized at the University of Michigan, and in the following year chapters were founded at Leland Stanford University and the Universities of Kansas, Nebraska and California, the first annual conclave having been held at Ann Arbor, Mich., in June, 1905. During 1906 chapters were established at Dartmouth, Ohio, Harvard, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin and Missouri, and during 1907 chapters at Cornell and Purdue. The Fraternity now has fifteen chapters, of which fourteen are active. The letters of the Hebrew alphabet are used to designate the various chapters. The Fraternity publishes an annual magazine, known as the "Acacia Journal." The colors are black and old gold.

The Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania was organized on Friday evening, May 3, 1906, at Hamilton Court, by Clarence G. Hill, the National Secretary of Acacia; Harvey J. Howard, a former member of the Michigan Chapter, and George E. Nitzsche. At this meeting there were present seventeen Master Masons, members of the University. A Chapter was installed, thus forming the Yodh, or Tenth Chapter of Acacia. The following officers were elected: Harvey J. Howard, '08, President; John C. Clayton, '07, Vice President; Arthur H. Wanner, '08, Treasurer, and George E. Nitzsche, '08, Secretary. At a subsequent meeting it was decided to name the Chapter "Franklin," in honor of the founder of the University, who was Grand Master of the State of Pennsylvania. The Chapter was started with twenty-one charter members.

PHI BETA KAPPA SOCIETY.

Delta Chapter of Pennsylvania.

This Chapter of the Honorary Fraternity of Phi Beta Kappa obtained its charter in 1892, the charter members being:

Rev. Dr. William Henry Furness,
 Rev. Dr. S. W. Dana, and
 Prof. Geo. E. Fisher.

The present membership of the Society is about two hundred, including forty members of the faculty. Undergraduate members are elected each year from the Senior and Junior Classes of the Arts and Science Course, the number each year being limited to five Seniors and three Juniors.

The formal exercises of the Society consist of a dinner, usually given in March, in honor of the newly elected undergraduate members, and public literary exercises during commencement week. For the last few years the commencement exercises have been held in conjunction with the Society of the Sigma Xi, and have been the occasion of the announcement of honors and prizes given by the University.

The present officers are:

President, Professor William A. Lamberton,
 Vice President, Professor George E. Fisher,
 Secretary-Treasurer, Professor Horace C. Richards.

PHI DELTA PHI.

The Fraternity of Phi Delta Phi was founded at the Law School of Michigan in 1859, being at that time the only fraternity composed exclusively of law students and lawyers.

Since its foundation the growth of the Fraternity has been rapid, and it is now represented in all the leading Law Schools of the country, having thirty-five chapters and a membership of 8,305.

In April, 1886, a chapter was installed at the University of Pennsylvania, and the name chosen in honor of Chief Justice Gibson, of Pennsylvania.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS.

Le Cercle Francais was founded in the fall of 1900 for the promotion of the study of the French language and literature in the University of Pennsylvania. Since that time it has grown in size and popularity, until it now figures as one of the important functions in undergraduate life. At present the membership is about 150, thus making it one of the largest of the French societies in any of the American universities.

Each Thursday evening the club meets for a conversational hour, when the instructor converses with the members on topics which would be most interesting to those who expect to visit France some time in the future. Especial attention has been given to describing the principal points of interest in Paris.

On the first Thursday of each month, after the conversational class is over, the regular monthly meeting is held. This meeting is usually in the form of a soiree, or an illustrated lecture on France, given by some well-known Frenchman.

Once a year the club gives a play in French, which has always met with great success.

Any student in the University is eligible to membership.

THE ENGINEERING FRATERNITY OF MU PHI ALPHA.

(Founded 1895)

The Engineering Fraternity of Mu Phi Alpha is the honorary senior society and graduate organization of the Towne School of Engineering. Unlike the purely undergraduate Senior societies, its affairs are controlled exclusively by graduate management, the Seniors in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering being eligible for election to active membership during the second term of their final year. The qualifications for membership are scholastic as well as personal, it being the policy of the Fraternity to encourage efficient scholarship and to recognize active participation in authorized University and departmental affairs. This organization aims to keep its members in touch with the University developments and to furnish a beneficial medium for the discussion of professional topics and the furtherance of their social relations.

Established in 1895, Mu Phi Alpha has, enjoyed a gradual but healthy growth from the time of its inception. Its early history, which is allied with the evolution of an undergraduate class club, marks an interesting epoch in the annals of the Engineering Department. The engineers of the Class of '95, the first class of the four-year technical course, organized themselves during their Sophomore year into an informal social club, unofficially known as the "Mechanical Farmers' Alliance," a name suggested by the activities of a contemporary political party. The successful undergraduate career of this club prompted its originators to arrange for the post-graduate continuation of its existence in a more dignified form. At the close of their Senior year the seven survivors of the course formally organized a Senior Society to be known as "The Engineering Fraternity of Mu Phi Alpha." The selection of this name was particularly appropriate, the Greek letters adopted being the abbreviated symbols of an expression fittingly applicable to the engineering profession, and at the same time representing the initials of the Fraternity's worthy predecessor.

SOCIETY OF THE SIGMA XI—PENNSYLVANIA CHAPTER.

The object of this Society is to encourage original investigation in science, pure and applied; by meeting for the discussion of scientific subjects; by the publication of such scientific matter as may be deemed desirable; by establishing fraternal relations among investigators in the scientific centres, and by granting the privilege of membership to such students as have, during their college course, given special promise of future achievement.

Original research bears the same relation to Sigma Xi as literary scholarship does to Phi Beta Kappa; and it is believed that the cause of original research, and that part of the higher education which trains the qualities required in scientific pursuits, will be benefited by honoring with election to Sigma Xi those men who, during their college course, show marked proficiency in these directions.

The Pennsylvania Chapter was founded in 1899, and has now seventy-six active members. The first Chapter of the Society was founded at Cornell in 1886, and there are at present twenty-five Chapters in all parts of the country, with an active membership of 1,476 and an alumni membership of 2,797.

President, Dr. G. A. Piersol, Logan Hall.

Vice President, Dr. H. B. Evans, College Hall.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA FRATERNITY.

This Fraternity was founded at Monmouth College in 1870. The Beta Alpha Chapter was established at the University of Pennsylvania in 1890, and is one of the two fraternities represented at Pennsylvania to which women are admitted.

The Fraternity now has thirty-three chapters in the various co-educational colleges and universities throughout the country. The Chapter occupies the premises 220 De Kalb Square, West Philadelphia.

PHI RHO SIGMA FRATERNITY (Phi Chapter).

The Phi Rho Sigma Fraternity was founded at Northwestern University, Chicago, Illinois, in 1890. Its active charter list shows twenty-two chapters in the leading universities of the United States. Phi Chapter was established at University of Pennsylvania in 1906. The chapter house is located at 3457 Walnut street.

THE SOCIETY OF SPECIAL ARCHITECTS, 1908.

The Society was organized in September, 1907. Its object is to promote a spirit of good-fellowship, and also to afford a free discussion of matters pertaining to the architectural profession. Meetings are held in Houston Hall on the first and third Tuesday of each month throughout the college year. Officers are elected twice a year. Men of high repute in the profession are asked to address the meeting on a certain chosen topic.

OMEGA TAU SIGMA (Alpha Chapter).

The Omega Tau Sigma had its origin at the University of Pennsylvania in the spring of 1906, when plans were prepared by a graduate of the University for organizing a Greek-letter fraternity for men interested in the study of veterinary medicine and surgery, but the movement did not take definite shape until the spring of 1907, when, on March 8, Frank E. Lentz, George A. Schwartz, William A. Haines, Edward A. Parker and Gerritt P. Judd organized themselves into the Alpha Chapter of the Omega Tau Sigma Fraternity, along the plans originally suggested by the founder. The membership is made up entirely of veterinary students, alumni and faculty. The emblem of the Fraternity is a square within a square, with the Greek letters Omega Tau Sigma in a black field in the centre. The official colors are red and blue. The Fraternity was organized as a national fraternity, but chapters can be admitted only from those institutions maintaining the highest standard of instruction. The Pennsylvania, or Alpha, Chapter is comfortably housed at 3713 Woodland avenue, and has a membership of twenty-nine—four honorary, six alumni, and nineteen undergraduate active members.

ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The origin of the Architectural Society was in a small organization called "The Night Owl Sketch Club," which was formed on October 30, 1896, under the leadership of Arthur Spayd Brooke, later its President. The purpose of this organization was to get its members together, outside the routine work, for informal talks by members of the faculty and practicing architects, and for small sketch problems, and for promoting social intercourse among its members.

This organization was such a success that on February 25, 1897, it was extended under the present title. The Society immediately undertook the publication of the department "Year Book" and brought out the first number on Commencement Day of that year. From that time on the Society has bent every effort towards the advancement of the school, raising the standard of work by its competitions and by contributions to the building fund and the library. It brought out the "Year Book" until 1901, when it was taken over by the department.

In February, 1903, the first annual play of the Society, called "A Play in Three Acts," by Edwin Bateman Morris, was presented at its opening meeting with great success. The annual play has become one of the institutions of the school and has been the most prominent feature of the Society since then.

In 1904 and 1905 it was given for the benefit of the building fund and in the last three years for the department library. All the plays have been written by Mr. Morris, Arch. '04, and have been increasingly successful.

THE CIVIL ENGINEERING SOCIETY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The Civil Engineering Society of the University of Pennsylvania was founded December 6, 1899, and organized on December 15 of the same year. Its purpose is to promote acquaintance and fellowship among the Civil Engineering students and to give them opportunities to hear and discuss current engineering themes.

Since its formation the growth of the Society has continued with that of the Civil Engineering Department, and to-day is in a flourishing condition.

Meetings are held on the first Friday evening of each month at the Engineering Building.

THE WHARTON ASSOCIATION.

The Wharton Association was organized in 1903 by the students of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce. It was formed with the idea of a closer relationship between the students and the faculty, and for the purpose of furthering the interests of the Wharton School. The range of its activities, at first small, has been so enlarged that at present, under efficient management, it is one of the most important undergraduate organizations of the University.

The Association is managed by a president, vice president, secretary and an executive committee, the officers being elected by the Association and the committee appointed by the President. Membership is voluntary, and since no dues are charged every member of the Wharton School is deemed a member.

The activities of the Association are many. A clubroom has been completely furnished for the use of the students. Here are given the well-known "Christmas Tree Celebrations;" prominent men of affairs are invited by the Association to address the Wharton School, thus giving the students the advantage of personal contact with practical men; an honor system of examinations has been established and successfully maintained by the Association under the guidance of an Honor System Committee; a committee of upper classmen appointed by the President act as advisers to students who fall behind in their work or are otherwise in need of advice.

One of the most important functions of the Association is carried on by the "New Student Committee," which furnishes information to prospective students and inquirers concerning courses and lines of work at the Wharton School and the University in general.

THE EVENING SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The Evening School Association is an organization of the students of the Evening School of Accounts and Finance, and was organized shortly after the first term of the Evening Department had commenced in the fall of 1904.

Its objects are the advancement of the interests of its members, of the Evening School and of the University of Pennsylvania. The Association has been very active, has had several successful social functions, and in 1907 it dedicated a memorial tablet in Houston Hall to the memory of Robert Morris, the financier of the American Revolution, and a Trustee of the University. It was also largely instrumental in the organization of the Robert Morris Club of Philadelphia.

The social life of the Evening School, as promoted by the Association, has resulted in the formation of strong friendships and the making of the attendance in class more attractive.

The Association retains the interests of the graduating classes by conferring an honorary membership upon each of the graduates of the Evening School.

The meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month, 7.30 P. M., in Logan Hall.

THE PRIESTLY CHEMICAL CLUB.

The Priestly Chemical Club was founded on June 5, 1894. The objects of the organization are the cultivation of social intercourse, the advancement of chemistry, and the promotion of chemical research in the University of Pennsylvania. Any graduate or matriculate who has devoted at least one year to chemistry in the Chemical Department of the University of Pennsylvania or any member of the corps of instructors is eligible to membership. A prize is awarded annually by the Club for the best work in the course in chemistry for that year.

Since the founding of the Club the Presidents of the Club have been: Dr. Edgar F. Smith, ex-officio; Mr. William S. Rowland, Dr. N. Wiley Thomas, Dr. Amos P. Brown, Dr. H. W. Jayne, Dr. E. K. Landis, Mr. John E. Carbutt, Mr. A. Kenwood, Mr. C. W. Boyer, Mr. William Helme, Mr. George Tyson, Mr. K. Williams and Mr. Allen T. Baldwin.

In the year 1906 the Priestly Club joined with the Ewing Club, an undergraduate organization, so that the present Priestly Club embraces both organizations.

THE ARTS AND SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.

The Arts and Science Association was formed at a meeting of undergraduates of the Arts and Science Course, called for that purpose in the Houston Club, February 12, 1906. The object is to foster the welfare of the University by promoting good-fellowship among the undergraduates in the Arts and Science Course.

The Association is entirely an undergraduate organization, controlled by the student body in the department, but it has the warm sympathy and co-operation of the faculty. The Association has joined with the faculty in officially advising new students concerning their rosters, and looking after their reception. New men are made to feel at home and good-fellowship is promoted by informal smokers. The Association inaugurated the plan last spring of a smoker and reception on the evening following the relay races to the schoolboys present at those events. This smoker was given under the auspices of a union of the various organizations similar to the Association.

The Presidents of the Association have been Francis C. Stifer, 1906; Robert R. McKay, 1907, and the present incumbent, George Wanger, 1908.

ENGINEERS' CLUB.

The Seniors and Juniors of the Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Department in 1899 organized the Engineers' Club of the University of Pennsylvania.

The purpose of the Club is to promote an interest in engineering by bringing the members together once a month to hear prominent engineers lecture on technical subjects.

The annual functions of the Club are a dance and a smoker given to all the students in the department.

THE PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY.

The Philomathean Society of the University of Pennsylvania was founded October 2, 1813, by thirteen Seniors of the University. There had been previous attempts to form a literary society, but none had been permanent, and the Philomathean Society remained the only one until 1829, when the Zelosophic Society was founded. The Philomathean Society has continued without interruption to the present time.

In addition to her regular literary work, the Society has from time to time reviewed books, supported lecture courses and issued magazines. The "University Magazine," which was succeeded by "The Pennsylvanian," was founded by the Society in 1875. Her greatest piece of work, however, was the translation of the "Rosetta Stone," of which two editions were published, in 1858 and 1859. This publication won for the Society a permanent reputation for scholarship at home and abroad.

The fiftieth anniversary of Philo was celebrated in 1863, and her seventy-fifth anniversary in 1888. In the ninety-five years of her existence she has sent forth many a true and loyal son who has won a name for himself by the exercise of the qualities of thought, energy and self-control which he learned in her halls. Her progress has shown the appropriateness of her motto, "Sic Itur Ad Astra."

THE WILLIAM PEPPER MEDICAL SOCIETY.

In November, 1886, a group of undergraduates of the Medical Department organized a society for the furtherance of medical science, friendship and morality. Dr. William Pepper, at that time Provost of the University, accepted the invitation to be the patron, and the Society was accordingly named in his honor. It immediately became active, and meetings have been held throughout each college year ever since without interruption. The literary work of the Society has steadily increased both in scope and in amount; at first the programme for each meeting consisted of one paper read by a member of the Senior Class. At the present time the literary programme consists of three papers by undergraduates and an address by the guest of the evening. The meetings are bi-monthly, and are held in a meeting room in the Pepper Laboratory. This meeting room was presented to the Society by Dr. Pepper, and is a luxury which few of the societies enjoy.

After Dr. Pepper's death had deprived the Society not only of its patron but also of its truest friend and most generous helper, Dr. Alfred Stengel accepted the election to the position of patron, and has endeared himself to all the members by his warm interest in the work of the Society.

The Society is progressive, the roll is larger than ever before, the literary work is done with earnestness, and there is a spirit of friendship among the members which binds them together very closely.

BARTON COOKE HIRST OBSTETRICAL SOCIETY.

The Barton Cooke Hirst Obstetrical Society of the University of Pennsylvania was founded on January 31, 1894, by the students of the Medical Department of the University at the Young Men's Christian Association Building, then at 3449 Woodland avenue, the object of the Society being for the advancement of science upon all subjects connected with the healing art, thereby lessening human suffering by investigating the diseases and remedies which are peculiar to this country, and enlarging the avenues to knowledge from the discoveries and publications of foreign countries.

Membership is limited to fifteen Seniors, ten Juniors and eight Sophomores. All must have a good scholastic record, and must not belong to any other medical society.

The Society was founded by the following students, who were officers during the first year: President, A. G. Dillinger; Vice President, B. S. Pollak; Recording Secretary, S. L. Gans; Financial Secretary, George Newlove; Treasurer, G. M. Tinker; Chairman, John Oenslager, Jr.

Every member at the end of his college year receives a certificate of membership signed by Professor Barton Cooke Hirst, in honor of whom the Society was named.

UNDERGRADUATE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

This Association was started in the fall of 1907 at the suggestion of Dr. John G. Clark, Professor of Gynecology. The various presidents of the undergraduate medical societies met at his office and decided to place the scheme of forming the Society in question before the various societies which they represented. The scheme was favorably acted upon by all the societies, the Association formed, and officers elected and a constitution and by-laws adopted. It also received the approval of the Medical Council of the Faculty. Each association elects a delegate to represent it in the central organization. At the annual meeting, which is held in the spring of each year, papers are read by one of the representatives of each of the societies, thus encouraging original research and scientific support. At the annual meeting the faculty gives a midday luncheon to the members and invited guests, followed by the annual meeting in the evening and a banquet. The organization has a membership of two hundred and fifty.

JOHN B. DEAYER SURGICAL SOCIETY.

The John B. Deaver Surgical Society was organized on November 5, 1897, by the following students of the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania, who are also the charter members: Alexander A. Uhle, '98; J. Quincy Thomas, '98; George P. Müller, '99; Collier F. Martin, '00; Harry K. Carey, '98; Frank H. Dye, '99; W. C. Swindells, '99, and J. E. Traynor, '99.

Since its inception the Society has had the following Presidents: Harry K. Carey, 1897-1898; George P. Müller, 1898-1899; Perry A. Bly, 1899-1900; Albert G. Miller, 1900-1901; E. B. Vedder, 1901-1902; William H. Mackinney, 1902-1903; Ralph E. Moffatt, 1903-1904; Joseph Schenberg, 1904-1905; James D. Kerr, 1905-1906; George Lawrence, 1906-1907; N. H. Muhlenberg, 1907-1908.

The total membership consists of one hundred and thirty, of whom twenty-two are undergraduates.

THE CHARLES K. MILLS NEUROLOGICAL SOCIETY.

The Charles K. Mills Neurological Society was organized in the year 1900 by the energetic work and co-operation of William J. Hickson, C. P. Large, Benjamin Singer, F. Steinhart, A. Hendricks, W. Goldberg, W. Dill and E. P. Russell, their first meeting being held on the 15th of February. The Society has enjoyed a healthy growth since the time of organization, the same energetic spirit of its founder having been maintained among its members in furthering the advancement of the study of neurology among the undergraduates of the University, and in fostering a more intimate social relation among its members. It has enrolled one hundred and seventy-two members. All of these men, except twenty, the present membership, have been graduated from the University, and some are holding prominent positions in the various branches of medicine, while others are enjoying successful practice. Its present honorary membership consists of eighteen of the most prominent men in the Medical Department, and much of the success of the Society is due to the kindness of its patron, the much-esteemed and honored Prof. Charles K. Mills, and the earnest co-operation of the other members of the Neurological Staff of the University of Pennsylvania.

THE KENT LAW CLUB.

With a desire to make their work at the Law School more thoroughly practical and effective through argumentative contests, moot courts and jury trials, and to stimulate a more friendly spirit among the students of the legal profession, the Kent Law Club was organized in 1896.

The first meetings were held in the shadow of the Liberty Bell, when the Law School held its classes in Congress Hall, at Sixth and Chestnut streets. It is named after one of the foremost jurists of the United States, Chancellor Kent. It is the general custom of this Club to hold jury trials every Friday evening during four months of the college year.

The Club occupies a room in the basement of the Law School Building.

In the fall of 1880 some four or five students of the Medical School under the leadership of one of their number, Dr. H. H. Herbst, then a member of the graduating class, now of Allentown, Pa., met at the latter's room on Walnut street on October 10th, 1880, and formally founded a Society whose object was to be "the stimulation among themselves of original research and the performance of literary work pertaining to the Medical sciences and also the promotion of social intercourse." As first president Dr. H. H. Herbst was elected and as vice-president, Dr. H. D. Michler, now Surgeon-in-Chief of the Easton Hospital, Pa. As patron they chose Dr. Horatio C. Wood—and it is to his continued interest in the welfare of the Society that the Society owes its progress and success.

The membership rapidly grew to sixteen and with this growth larger quarters were necessary. A room in the old Quizz building on Woodland avenue now occupied by the offices of the Pennsylvanian was secured. Here every second week the Society met.—Original papers by the members from the graduating class were read and discussed. An address by a graduate was always a feature of the meetings. And the Society has had the privilege of hearing most of the well-known physicians and surgeons of Philadelphia. In these rooms too were carried out on certain nights weird and mysterious ceremonies to initiate those about to become members. Each spring a larger meeting has been held as a reunion for active and post-graduate members.

About 1890 the Society moved from its old quarters to a room in the Library and with this move the practice of admitting members with those impressive initiation ceremonies was discarded and they are remembered now only as part of the history of the Society.

In connection with the recent establishment of the undergraduate medical association it is interesting to note that on January 23d, 1895, a plan suggested by Dr. Judson Daland for forming a "General Medical Society," to be an association of the seven medical societies then in existence, was brought before our society. After considerable deliberation this Society voted in favor of the plan, but it failed to materialize.

In 1902 the Society once more moved its quarters this time to their present location on Locust street. At the same time there was added to the literary exercises a case history presented by a third year man for diagnosis which has since been one of the most interesting parts of our evenings. In the fall of 1904 the custom of having a second year man prepare a digest of certain articles from the current medical literature was introduced. About the same time, as the literary exercises had now become too long, the old plan of four original papers was changed to that of one somewhat longer paper prepared by a fourth year man. Already also the custom had developed of having only one graduate speaker instead of two. Until the present year although the Society has elected men from the first year of medicine and at one time from the last year of the biological course preparatory to medicine, it admitted them to active membership only when they entered the second-year class. Beginning with this year however, first-year men also were admitted to active membership.

Thus the Society has developed into the twenty-eighth year of its existence.

THE MILLER LAW CLUB.

The Miller Law Club was founded in 1882, and named in honor of E. Spencer Miller, late Professor of Law at the University of Pennsylvania. The Club was reorganized later along lines similar to the other law clubs, the principal work of the members consisting of the drawing of briefs and argument of cases before moot courts and juries, in order to familiarize the students with practical methods of preparing and trying cases. The Club occupies a permanent room in the Law School Building at Thirty-fourth and Chestnut streets.

THE HARE LAW CLUB.

The Hare Law Club was organized in 1890, succeeding the old University Law Club, one of the first two in the department. Its primary object is to aid its members in securing a training in the method of drawing briefs, in the trial of cases, and in arguing before a Court.

The new organization was named in honor of John I. Clark Hare, for many years Professor of Constitutional Law at the University, and one of the greatest of American jurists.

The present undergraduate and graduate membership consists of more than three hundred, many of whom are prominent members of the bar. The undergraduate membership of the Club is limited to fifteen from each class, and is composed mostly of college graduates of a high standard of general scholarship in the Law School. Almost all of the prominent colleges and universities in the East, and many in the West, are represented among its members.

The Club is divided into three divisions, composed of the members of the first, second and third-year classes, respectively. The Club has always taken an active interest in the affairs of the University, and in 1906 it presented to the Law Department a large oil portrait of its patron, the late Judge John I. Clark Hare, painted by E. Koenig, from life. Subsequently the Club erected a brass memorial tablet in Houston Hall to his memory.

The Club has a comfortably furnished suite of rooms in the Law School Building at Thirty-fourth and Chestnut streets.

SHARSWOOD LAW CLUB.

In the autumn of the year 1881 several students in the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, feeling the need of early training in the study of cases and framing of briefs, and recognizing the advantages of practice in argument, formed themselves into a club in which they might obtain these practical benefits. A constitution was adopted on October 8, 1881, and the Club sought a godfather in that great lawyer and jurist who had so long been an ornament of the school in which its members studied. The present constitution is the result of a revision made on December 7, 1892, and of some subsequent amendments.

Active membership of the Club is divided into the Upper, Middle and Lower Divisions, consisting, respectively, of students in the third, second and first-year classes of the Law School. Members of each division argue cases before a court composed of members of the division next above them. Arguments of the Upper Division are held before members of the Faculty of the Law School. In this case members of the Middle Division act as junior counsel.

The Club is fortunate in having a strong and loyal alumni membership, who meet with the undergraduates at an annual dinner.

The social side of the Club, though not a primary feature, is extremely pleasant, and is added to by the fact that the Club occupies two comfortably furnished rooms in the Law School Building.

THE THOMAS McKEAN LAW CLUB.

The Thomas McKean Law Club was organized in October, 1904, being named in honor of Thomas McKean, who was the Chief Justice of Pennsylvania from 1777 to 1799, and a Trustee of the University of Pennsylvania from 1779 to 1817.

In the fall of 1905, through the courtesy of the Law Faculty, a permanent clubroom was secured in the basement of the Law School Building. In common with the other six law clubs of the University, the purpose of this organization is to conduct moot courts, mock trials and legal debates, in addition to the regular Law School work, thus giving the students an opportunity of obtaining a practical knowledge for looking up cases, preparing briefs and appearing before members of the Law School Faculty, who sit as judges.

The members of the club have always maintained a high standard of scholarship. The founder was Leopold C. Glass, '04 C., '07 L., who was elected President and re-elected in 1905.

E. C. KIRK DENTAL SOCIETY.

On January 27, 1897, thirty-six students from three classes of the Dental Department met in Houston Hall to consider the formation of another dental society.

Dr. Kirk consented to have the new Society named in his honor, and offered many valuable suggestions for consideration in organizing.

The Society has for its objects the elevation of dentistry as a profession, the advancement of the members in the profession, and the promotion of good-fellowship among the students. The Society hopes for the realization of these objects by ever keeping the highest ideals before the members; by having addresses by men of the highest standing in the profession; by reading an original paper on some subject pertaining to dentistry and replying to any criticism on their ideas; informal talks on incidents of practice and discussions of the most effectual and practical methods of procedure in different cases, and, finally, by holding smokers and other informal gatherings where good-fellowship prevails.

On the present Faculty of the Dental Department are five alumni members: Drs. S. Merrill Weeks, Walter W. McKay, Alfred P. Lee, Norman L. Roberts and A. F. Jackson. There are also five honorary members: Professors Edward C. Kirk, James Truman, Matthew H. Cryer, Edwin T. Darby and Charles R. Turner.

Meetings are held in the Society's room in Houston Hall every second Thursday from the middle of October to the middle of April.

THE HOLLAND DENTAL SOCIETY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

On November 17, 1907, the students from Holland at the University of Pennsylvania organized the "Holland Dental Society of the University of Pennsylvania." Although the membership is not as large as that of other societies composed of students coming from foreign countries, during its brief existence it has proven itself of much use, not only to its own members, but to their fellow-countrymen desiring information concerning American institutions.

The Society was primarily organized to foster good-fellowship among students from Holland studying at the University of Pennsylvania and to promote the interests of the University both here and abroad. The list of officers and members for 1908 is:

Honorary President, John Grevers, Amsterdam, Holland.

President, Johan-Cornelis Marie Bierens, '08, 3330 Lancaster avenue (Dordrecht, Holland).

Secretary, Henry Collard, '09, 24 Morgan Dormitory (Krommenie, Holland).

Members, Henri Anthony Becht, '08, 22 Morgan Dormitory (The Hague, Holland); Jan Willem van Kuyk, '09, 3332 Lancaster avenue (The Hague, Holland); Hendrik Hermann Theodorus Avie, '09, 3262 Chestnut street (Utrecht, Holland); Ludolph Theodorus Arend van Hasslet, '10, 122 South Thirty-third street (The Hague, Holland); Jan Hermann van Heemskerck Duker, '10, 17 North Thirty-fourth street (Hilversum, Holland); Ernest Philip Jacob Friderich, '10, 17 North Thirty-fourth street (Arnhem, Holland); Otto Paul Koch, '10, 3332 Lancaster avenue (The Hague, Holland).

EDWIN T. DARBY DENTAL SOCIETY.

The Edwin T. Darby Dental Society was organized on March 5, 1891, and named in honor of Dr. Darby, who at that time held the Chair in Operative Dentistry at the University of Pennsylvania. The charter members of the Society are Edward Joachim, Fred. M. Bodine, Francis H. Bond, Edward Bonwill, John J. Bowen, George H. Johnson, Jr., Vet. E. Mitchell, Robert Seymour, Harry Swash, Andrew L. Brown and Andrew T. Burke.

The objects of the Society are to derive mutual knowledge and benefit in the study of the profession of dentistry, to foster the spirit of individual investigation and research, and promote social intercourse and good-fellowship, and to discuss all matters relating to the profession; carefully prepared papers are read by the Senior members, after which a general discussion takes place.

The Society has held its meetings in various places since it was founded. The first year the meetings were held in the University Library Building, the next year at Fortieth and Market streets, and in 1893-94 a fraternity house was used, located at 3701 Woodland avenue.

During the session of 1894-95 the Society accepted the invitation to hold its meetings at the Academy of Stomatology; at the beginning of the next session it occupied a room at Thirty-third and Chestnut streets, and finally, on January 20, 1896, moved to Houston Hall, its present quarters.

JAMES TRUMAN DENTAL SOCIETY.

The James Truman Dental Society was organized during the college year of 1890-91 with six charter members. Dr. J. A. McKee, of Philadelphia, was its first President. It was the first of the dental societies to be organized.

The first meeting was held in a corner room on the first floor of the old Dental Hall, which is now the Robert Hare Chemical Laboratory, when Dr. Truman was dean of the department.

The literary work of the Society has been of a high order and given valuable experience in writing and discussing dental subjects. Each Senior is requested to write a paper, to be read and discussed before the Society. A speaker for each meeting is procured to give practical talks upon questions and problems that arise in the dental profession.

VETERINARY MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The Veterinary Medical Society of the University of Pennsylvania was organized in the fall of 1889 for the purpose of developing traits among its members which could not well be attained by any prescribed curriculum, and to bring together the students of the department for the purpose of meeting the graduate members of the faculty and men eminent in the profession. Dr. Leonard Pearson, who was one of the founders of the Society, was its first President.

Every undergraduate member of the Veterinary Department is eligible to membership. Meetings are held at Houston Hall on the first and third Fridays of each month.

FRIENDS' CENTRAL CLUB.

The Friends' Central Club of the University of Pennsylvania was organized in the fall of 1898, to get the students of Friends' Central School interested in the University of Pennsylvania. The Senior Class of Friends' Central is entertained at the University each year by the Club at a dance or smoker in Houston Hall.

The following men were members during 1908:

W. Lewis Abbott, '11 C.; William L. Brown, '08 C.; J. Alfred Borden, '09 M.; William S. Carpenter, '11 C.; Thomas J. Conway, William K. De Victor, '08 L.; Royal B. Dobbins, '11 C.; Harold F. Gaston, '10 L.; Robert R. Gormley, '10 C.; Dudley K. Hansell, '10 C.; Morris T. Hansell, '08 M.; Herman H. Harvey, '09 C.; C. Wayne Heacock, '11 C.; Charles Huhn, '11 C.; Henry W. BLAIR ACADEMY CLUB.

This Club was organized in the fall of 1907 by the graduates of the Blair Academy who are students at the University of Pennsylvania for the purpose of bringing into closer relations the Blair Academy students at the University and the pupils at Blair Academy.

The following is a list of the officers and members:

President, H. J. Klaer, '09 C., 3400 Walnut street.

Vice President, H. S. Kennedy, '10 L., 26 Bodine Dormitories.

Secretary-Treasurer, H. R. Armstrong, '11 Ch. E., 39 Morris Dormitories.

Members, H. R. Armstrong, E. N. Black, E. P. Henry, H. S. Kennedy, H. J. Klaer, F. H. McLaury, W. Mc. K. White.

THE ROBERT MORRIS CLUB.

The Robert Morris Club consists of graduate and undergraduate members of the School of Accounts and Finance, which was established by the University of Pennsylvania in 1904 for the purpose of offering advanced instruction in finance and commercial subjects to men having completed a high-school education, reached the age of twenty-one and who are prepared to pursue University work, but who are prevented by their employment from attending the day classes in the Wharton School. The earnestness and spirit with which these men enter into the work and their efforts to promote good-fellowship have on every occasion proven most gratifying, and when at the annual banquet the Provost suggested the formation of a club to further unite this good feeling it at once received a hearty approval, and steps were immediately taken to consummate the idea.

During the summer vacation months of 1907 a few of the more active members proceeded with the necessary detail work, and were able to bring into existence shortly after the opening of the fall session "The Robert Morris Club," an organization named in honor of the first financier of our nation and a Trustee of the University of Pennsylvania. Its main object is to fraternalize the graduate and undergraduate members of the Evening School of Finance and Accounts—men who have been associated during three years of student life—and thus give them further opportunities to keep in touch with the live subjects of the day by having special club nights set apart, at which time learned and able speakers are invited to address them.

Because of its recent organization it is gratifying to all who are associated with it to note the most successful manner in which it has reached its present condition. Its clubrooms, located at Fifteenth and Sansom streets, are comfortably and attractively furnished, offering its members various opportunities to spend pleasant evenings.

Having the hearty co-operation of the University Faculty, and among its membership men already well established in business pursuits, its future and growth is assured.

The officers of the Club are:

President, Provost C. C. Harrison, 400 Chestnut street.
 Vice Presidents, Vice Provost Edgar F. Smith, Harrison Chemical Laboratory;
 Charles Weissinger, Twenty-seventh and Thompson streets; Albert Hill, 1822 Wallace street; H. C. Hausman, 1205 South Forty-sixth street.
 Secretary, J. Davis Ferry, 1823 Race street.
 Treasurer, William Flint, Jr., 1512 Ritner street.

NORTHEAST MANUAL TRAINING HIGH SCHOOL CLUB.

Northeast Manual Training High School Club was organized Friday evening, January 12, 1906, by graduates of Northeast Manual, the object being to keep warm the ties of friendship made at the preparatory school and to further the interests of the University of Pennsylvania and the Northeast Manual. Efforts are made to encourage the students of Northeast Manual to visit Pennsylvania and interest them in the work. Each year a squad of University men representing the various departments at Penn have visited Northeast and spoken to the Senior Class regarding the various courses, bringing to their attention the advantages and possibilities of college-bred men, and aiding them as far as possible to surmount the many difficulties which so often confront a high-school man about to enter college.

A reception and smoker to the Northeast Manual Senior Class is given each year, usually held at the Houston Club. The active membership of the Club is over two hundred.

THE GERMANTOWN ACADEMY CLUB.

The Germantown Academy Club is an organization of graduates of the Germantown Academy now attending the University for the purpose of furthering Pennsylvania spirit and of interesting the undergraduates of the Academy in the University. Smokers and entertainments are given at the University to the members of the graduating classes of the school, thus getting the boys acquainted with the University of Pennsylvania, and giving them opportunities of visiting the campus and buildings, and of obtaining an insight into the various phases of college life at Pennsylvania.

The Germantown Academy Club endeavors to watch over the Germantown boys who come to the University, and to see that they are made to feel at home.

There are about a hundred members in the Club.

THE WALKING CLUB

Confident of the popularity of such a form of exercise, a number of walking enthusiasts met in the Gymnasium on Saturday, January 11, 1908, to organize the University of Pennsylvania Walking Club. The same afternoon the Club went on its first outing, a seven-mile walk through Fairmount Park, with seventy-five men in line. On the next expedition, a week later, to League Island, there was almost twice the former number of men on the march. Since that time the Club has gone out regularly every Saturday, except when the weather was unfavorable, and covered between ten and twelve miles each time. President Cromie has planned a week's trip to New York during the summer vacation, and the prospects are bright for a solid column of walkers on this excursion.

THE TWENTY-SIXTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT CLUB.

The Twenty-sixth Congressional District Club was organized in the fall of 1907. All students coming from the counties of Carbon, Monroe, Northampton and Pike, which form the Twenty-sixth Congressional District of the United States, are eligible to membership.

THE GERMANIC ASSOCIATION.

The Germanic Association of the University of Pennsylvania was founded by Prof. M. D. Learned in the autumn of 1895, soon after his entering upon his duties as Professor of German. The Association is composed of the instructors and graduate students of the German Department of the University, and meets monthly during the academic year. The programme of this institution is rigidly restricted to articles presenting the results of original research. Most of these papers have been published in the "Americana Germanica," and the "German American Annals," edited by Professor Learned. This Society has been very active, has a large membership, and during the last twelve years many of the papers read at its meetings have been published.

COVENANT UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA SOCIETY.

This Society was organized on Wednesday, January 14, 1903, at the Church of the Covenant, Girard avenue and Twenty-seventh street, at a supper given by the Rector, the Rev. J. J. Joyce Moore, '76 C., to the two graduates and three undergraduates of the University of Pennsylvania who were connected with the church or Sunday-school. The object in bringing the collegians together was to secure a more united effort in influencing parents to send their sons to the University rather than to stores or offices of manufacturing concerns after their graduation from schools or academies. This definite, simple and laudable enterprise has met with satisfactory success, and to-day there are sixteen instead of six members in the Society. The principal meeting is now held in Christmas week, so that the members who are engaged in work at a distance can attend the supper, which is held at the rectory, when the annual election of officers takes place.

THE AMERICAN LAW REGISTER.

The American Law Register was started in November, 1852, and is the oldest monthly legal publication in the United States. It was first published by the D. B. Canfield Company under the editorial supervision of Asa I. Fish and Henry Wharton, of the Philadelphia Bar. In 1861 its field was somewhat broadened, the editorial staff consisting of Isaac I. Redfield, of Boston; Professor Theodore W. Dwight, of New York; Professor Amos Dean, of Albany, and Henry Wharton, of Philadelphia. From 1861 to 1891 among those who were editors were Judge Thomas M. Cooley, and Professor H. Wade Rogers, of Ann Arbor; Professor Charles H. Wood, and Professor Marshall E. Ewell, of Chicago; Professor Edmund H. Bennett, of Boston; Hon. Eli S. Hammond, of Memphis; Alexander Martin, of St. Louis; Judge J. I. Clark Hare, and Frank P. Prichard, Henry Budd, James C. Sellers and John B. Uhle, of Philadelphia.

In 1891 the Canfield Company suspended publication of the Register, and several members of the Bar, desiring to continue its existence, placed in the hands of Mr. Russell Duane as trustee, a fund sufficient to purchase the "American Law Register" from Canfield & Co., and a company known as the University of Pennsylvania Press then agreed with Mr. Duane to conduct the publication, and secured William Draper Lewis, Esq., and George Wharton Pepper, Esq., as editors. In the latter part of 1892 the University of Pennsylvania Press went out of existence, having reassigned the Register to the Trustee, and for the next two years the publication was conducted by Mr. Lewis, and passed under the editorial management of Mr. Lewis, Mr. Pepper and Mr. William S. Ellis. In 1895 the editorial management was placed in the hands of a committee of students, honor men in the Law Department of the University, and in 1897 the Trustees assigned the copyright of the magazine to the University of Pennsylvania. Since that time the magazine has been conducted by the University under the immediate editorial and business management of a committee of students and the supervision of the faculty of the department.

Beginning with the January number, 1908, the name was changed to "The University of Pennsylvania Law Review," the old name, "American Law Register," being carried as a sub-title, the volume numbers being unchanged, the correct numbers for 1908 being parts of the fifty-fifth volume.

THE NURSES' ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION.

The Nurses Alumnae Association of the University of Pennsylvania was organized in 1894, and has for its object "the union of its graduates for mutual help and improvement, and the promotion of fellowship among its members, and the advancement of the best interests of the nursing profession."

It has now a membership list of 144, and is active and progressive. The Society has been raising funds for several years to endow a room in the University Hospital for its sick members, an object which it is expected will be accomplished in the very near future.

This Alumnae Association called the first meeting to consider the formation of the "Philadelphia Nurses' County Association," which took out a charter in February, 1903; the "Graduate Nurses' Association of the State of Pennsylvania," which organized in 1903, and in September, 1905, called the meeting of all the associations of nurses in Philadelphia to consider and discuss the need of a clubhouse for graduate nurses of Philadelphia, which resulted in the leasing of the house 1207 Locust street in April, 1907. The Club has grown in favor and popularity. The first superintendent of this Club is one of the graduates of the University of Pennsylvania Training School.

WESTERN NEW ENGLAND ALUMNI SOCIETY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

This Society had its origin at the annual meeting of the New England Alumni of the University of Pennsylvania, held in Boston in February, 1907, when it was decided to divide the Society into four sub-divisions, having headquarters at New Haven, Springfield, Boston and Portland. This step was taken in order that alumni might find it easier to get to their respective Society dinners, smokers, reunions, etc., at a less expense and at a loss of less time than if they had to travel, for instance, from New Haven, to Boston. This sub-division is not intended, however, to prevent any alumnus from still retaining his membership in the Boston Society and attending that meeting.

The Western Sub-Division includes the counties of Windsor, Windham, Bennington and Rutland, in Vermont; the counties of Hartford and Litchfield, in Connecticut, and the counties of Hampden, Hampshire, Berkshire and Franklin, in Massachusetts. In December, 1907, the first annual dinner of the Western New England Society was held in Springfield, and fifty loyal sons of Penn became members of the Society. Officers were elected and the Society fully launched into its life work to fulfill its objects of fostering the fraternal feeling among the Alumni of Pennsylvania, to guard and advance the interests of the University, and to interest the local preparatory schools in the University and its work.

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA CLUB OF NEW YORK CITY. 124 WEST FORTY-SEVENTH STREET.

At the annual meeting of the "New York Society of the Alumni of the University of Pennsylvania," held in conjunction with its annual banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria on the evening of January 20, 1900, the President of the Alumni Society, William B. Boulton, '79 C., introduced H. B. Mingle, '99 C., who outlined a plan for a closer organization of the Pennsylvania men in and about New York City and the securing of rooms as headquarters for the same. After general discussion, the matter was left in the hands of a committee to report at a meeting to be held March 3, 1900, at the studios of Mr. Howard Constable. At this meeting a permanent organization to be known as the "University of Pennsylvania Club of New York City" was effected, and, in accordance with this, articles of incorporation were duly filed under the membership corporation laws of the State of New York, with the following incorporators:

W. B. Boulton, S. Mallet-Provost, H. B. Mingle, C. C. Sichel, M. D., W. D. Tracy, D. D. S., Howard Constable, V. L. Johnson, H. G. Ward and H. B. Weil.

The club has maintained a membership of about two hundred, and the dues are as follows: Resident members (in Greater New York), $20.00 per annum; non-resident, $10.00 per annum, payable semi-annually, in advance, January and July 1st of each year. Graduates of less than five years' standing who are resident members may pay $10.00 instead of $20.00. The Club has its headquarters at 127 West Forty-seventh street, where meals are served a la carte or table d'hote. Tuesday evening is club night, to which all Pennsylvania men in or about New York City or visiting men are most cordially invited, and the rooms are used frequently by department organizations for dinners and meetings.

BERKS COUNTY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

May 13, 1901, invitations signed by Dr. W. Murray Weidman, Dr. Israel Cleaver, Dr. George W. Kehl, Dr. Hiester Bucher and Howard Ziegler were forwarded to graduates of the University of Pennsylvania residing in Berks county, Pa., to attend a meeting to be held May 23, 1901, in the Board of Trade Rooms, 25 North Sixth street, Reading, Pa., the object being to organize a local alumni association. The response to this invitation was most encouraging, twenty-nine being present.

Dr. W. Murray Weidman, who was elected temporary chairman, introduced Dean Penniman. He emphasized the needs of the University for a complete organization of its graduates throughout America. After the necessary steps for organization had been explained by Thomas B. Donaldson, on motion of Dr. J. W. Keiser, "The Berks County Alumni Association" was organized, with the following officers: President, W. Murray Weidman, '60 M.; Vice President, Howard Ziegler, '00 C.; Secretary-Treasurer, Hiester Bucher, '97 M. Executive Committee, Israel Cleaver, '63 M.; H. W. Bohn, '87 D.; George M. LANCASTER COUNTY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The Lancaster County Alumni Association of the University of Pennsylvania was organized on March 3 1904, through the efforts of Dr. W. B. Weidler, Dr. B. Frank Witmer and James F. McCoy. Of the one hundred or more registered alumni living in Lancaster county fifty-five attended the first meeting and joined the Association. Since that time a meeting has been held annually, and the membership increased to ninety-seven.

The first officers were: President, Dr. W. B. Weidler; Vice President, Henry G. McCarter; Secretary and Treasurer, James F. McCoy. Mr. McCarter, who was one of the most popular men in the Association, died in July, 1904, and was succeeded in the Vice Presidency by Dr. B. Frank Witmer. The Association has been successful in increasing the number of Lancaster county students at Penn over one hundred per cent., and is doing everything in its power to advance the interests of the University. The Alumni of Penn in Lancaster have taken a prominent part in their professions, and in the social and political life of the community, and are adding additional fame to the University.

NORTHUMBERLAND DISTRICT ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The Northumberland District Alumni Association held its first meeting in Sunbury, Pa., on November 7, 1904, organizing under the name "Northumberland Alumni Association of the University of Pennsylvania." It was originally intended to confine the membership to resident alumni of Northumberland county, but by request Columbia, Montour, Snyder and Union counties were added, making five counties, which were formerly included in Northumberland in the early days of Pennsylvania. The Association has almost one hundred members, and is one of the most enthusiastic local alumni societies in the State.

The officers are: President, Rev. Charles Morrison, '60 C., Sunbury, Pa.; Vice President, E. A. Gerberick, '76 M., Shamokin, Pa.; Secretary-Treasurer, H. M. Becker, '98 M., Sunbury, Pa.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI SOCIETY OF THE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Philadelphia Alumni Society of the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania was organized April 2, 1892.

The justification for this Society is best expressed in the constitution: "The object of the Society shall be to foster a spirit of good-fellowship among the alumni of the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania and to encourage their direct, personal interest in their Alma Mater."

The Society holds two social meetings and one "outing" each year. On a number of occasions it has entertained the members of the graduating classes of the Medical Department.

The annual dues are two dollars. More than 450 alumni residing in and near Philadelphia have enrolled themselves as members. The popularity of the meetings is attested by the attendance frequently exceeding one-half of the membership. There is every reason to believe that the organization has fully met the expectations of those who instituted it sixteen years ago.

THE PITTSBURG ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The Pittsburgh Alumni Association was organized during the winter of 1893 at a meeting of Pennsylvania men, when the following officers and Board of Governors were elected: President, Hon. This first meeting was held at the old University clubhouse on Penn avenue, and was attended by about twenty alumni. Annual meetings have been held ever since. The Association is now over 400 strong, and is growing rapidly. In recent years it has been the policy of the Association to give an annual banquet, besides a series of smokers during the winter months. These meetings are always very enthusiastic and well attended.

THE SOCIETY OF THE ALUMNI OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

This body was organized in 1870, and is composed of graduates in good standing who pay the yearly dues. No initiation fee is required.

The primary objects of the Society are the promotion of good-fellowship and brotherhood among the members, and to further the interests and usefulness of the Medical School.

This body was largely instrumental in raising the educational standard of the Medical Department, and was also influential in starting and bringing to fruition the establishment of the University Hospital, and the society has always had its representatives upon the Board of Managers of the Hospital. The Philadelphia Medical Alumni Society, a vigorous organization, was an outgrowth of this body. The Society was also instrumental in starting the Medical Branch of the "Memorial Library of the University of Pennsylvania and Her Sons," which includes all books written by men who have been connected with the University either as students or as members of the faculty.

A bronze medal is awarded each year to the graduate who has the highest general average, provided he has attended the three last years in the University.

A committee of the Society and the Historian for twelve years have been collecting data in regard to graduates for the anticipated matriculate catalogue. Full data have been collected of several thousand men, besides valuable statistics in regard to alumni. The whole number of graduates of the Medical Department in the past one hundred and thirty-six years amounts to nearly thirteen thousand, and it is estimated that about four thousand are still living.

A yearly banquet is held on or near the twenty-second of February.

Any graduate in good standing may become a member of the Society upon payment of the annual dues.

FRENCH BRANCH OF THE ALUMNI SOCIETY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

In the course of the year 1903-1904 a French Club was created at the University of Pennsylvania, Z. Eudlitz being the President. In November, 1904, about all its members back in France decided to continue the work which had been done in America; the Pennsylvania Club was born. To those young graduates a number of former graduates residing in France were soon added. In 1906, under the Presidentship of Field Robinson, the Club changed its name, and is now The French Branch of the Alumni Society of the University of Pennsylvania. The meetings of the club take place every other month.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA ALUMNI SOCIETY.

The Northern California Alumni Society was organized in San Francisco, California, in February, 1906. Dean Penniman and about twenty graduates were present. The founders of the Society were Prof. Raymond M. Alden, '94 C., and Mr. Wm. C. Hays, '93 C. A few months after the first meeting the earthquake and fire visited San Francisco, which naturally interfered much with the progress of the Association. A second meeting was held in February, 1907. THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA ALUMNI SOCIETY OF ATLANTIC CITY, NEW JERSEY.

This Society was reorganized on January 15, 1907, under the name of "University of Pennsylvania Alumni Society of Atlantic City, New Jersey," it having been formerly known as the "University of Pennsylvania Club." It was started with thirty-eight charter members, and now has a membership of forty-three.

JEWISH CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE OF THE U. OF P.

This is a branch circle of the Jewish Chautauqua Society of America, and its purpose is to carry out the aims of that organization, i. e., to disseminate in popular form a knowledge of Jewish history and literature. A number of the Jewish students at the University of Pennsylvania, on November 8, 1906, formally organized the Chautauqua Circle. Dr. Henry Berkowitz, the Chancellor of the Jewish Chautauqua Society, addressed the students on that occasion, emphasizing the fact that the knowledge of his own history and literature is of more importance to the Jewish student than the study of Greek or Latin. Vice Provost Smith, who presided, encouraged and endorsed the men heartily in their new movement, which was the first of its kind in the country.

The officers for the first year were: President, Chester G. Bandman, '07 C.; Vice President, David Schneeberg, '07 C.; Secretary, Max Wilensky, '07 C.; Treasurer, Samuel Rosenbaum, '10 C. The circle follows the Chautauqua's course in American Jewish history.

During 1908 the course adopted was the one in post-biblical history and literature. The Circle has sixty members.
